

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT TEACHING

ETHICAL AND POLITICAL CHALLENGES

Edited by
Katrien Van Poeck, Leif Östman and Johan Öhman

June 2019; 234x156; 246pp
17 illustrations

Hb: 978-0-815-35753-7 | £115.00
eBook: 978-1-351-12434-8

TABLE OF CONTENTS:

Introduction: Sustainable development teaching – ethical and political challenges; PART I: Education and the challenge of building a more sustainable world ; 1. Four misunderstandings about sustainability and transitions ; 2. Tackling wicked problems in teaching and learning. Sustainability issues as knowledge, ethical and political challenges; 3. Principles for sustainable development teaching; PART II: Choosing teaching content and approaches; 4. Sustainable development teaching in view of qualification, socialisation and person-formation; 5. Different teaching traditions in environmental and sustainability education; 6. The ethical tendency typology: Ethical and moral situations in environmental and sustainability education; 7. A pragmatist perspective on value education; 8. The political tendency typology: Different ways in which the political dimension of sustainability issues appears in educational practice; 9. Deliberation and agonism: Two different approaches to the political dimension of environmental and sustainability education; PART III: Designing and implementing teaching and learning practices; 10. A transactional theory on sustainability learning; 11. A transactional theory on sustainability teaching: Teacher moves; 12. Ethical moves: How teachers can open-up a space for articulating moral reactions and deliberating on ethical opinions regarding sustainability issues; 13. Political moves: How teachers can open-up for and handle poignant experiences of the conflictual aspects of sustainability issues; 14. Classroom discussions: Students' learning in argumentation about ethical and political aspects of sustainability issues; 15. Power and governance in environmental and sustainability education practice; 16. Teaching as a matter of staging encounters with literary texts in environmental and sustainability education; 17. Taking-up ethical global issues in the classroom; 18. Students as political subjects in discourses on sustainable development – a glimpse from Sarah's classroom; 19. Embodied experiences of 'decision-making' in face of uncertain and complex sustainability issues; 20. Political emotions in environmental and sustainability education

20% discount with this flyer!

Sustainable Development Teaching

Ethical and Political Challenges

Edited by Katrien Van Poeck, Leif Östman and Johan Öhman

Series: Routledge Studies in Sustainability

The aim of this book is to support and inspire teachers to contribute to much-needed processes of sustainable development and to develop teaching practices and professional identities that allow them to cope with the specificity of sustainability issues and, in particular, with the teaching challenges related to the ethical and political dimension of environmental and sustainability education. This book will be essential reading for students of education, as well as teachers in compulsory and higher education and sustainability education researchers.

20% Discount Available - enter the code FLR40 at checkout***

Hb: 978-0-815-35753-7 | £92.00

\ Offer cannot be used in conjunction with any other offer or discount and only applies to books purchased directly via our website.*

*For more details, or to request a copy for review, please visit:
<http://pages.email.taylorandfrancis.com/review-copy-request>*